Fostering Agency

CHILDREN'S GUIDE

Hi I'm Titch, the Mouse from Ivy House

I'm a fostered mouse and I want to answer some of your questions and worries about coming to live with a foster family.

★ Who are Fostering Families?

Fostering families are specially chosen for children who cannot live with their families. Fostering families are ordinary people who care for you and want to share their home with you. They don't want to replace your family.

Children sometimes need to be cared for by foster families for different lengths of time and for different reasons.

Titch wants to tell you about the different types of fostering families that you might live with.

★ Support Fostering Families

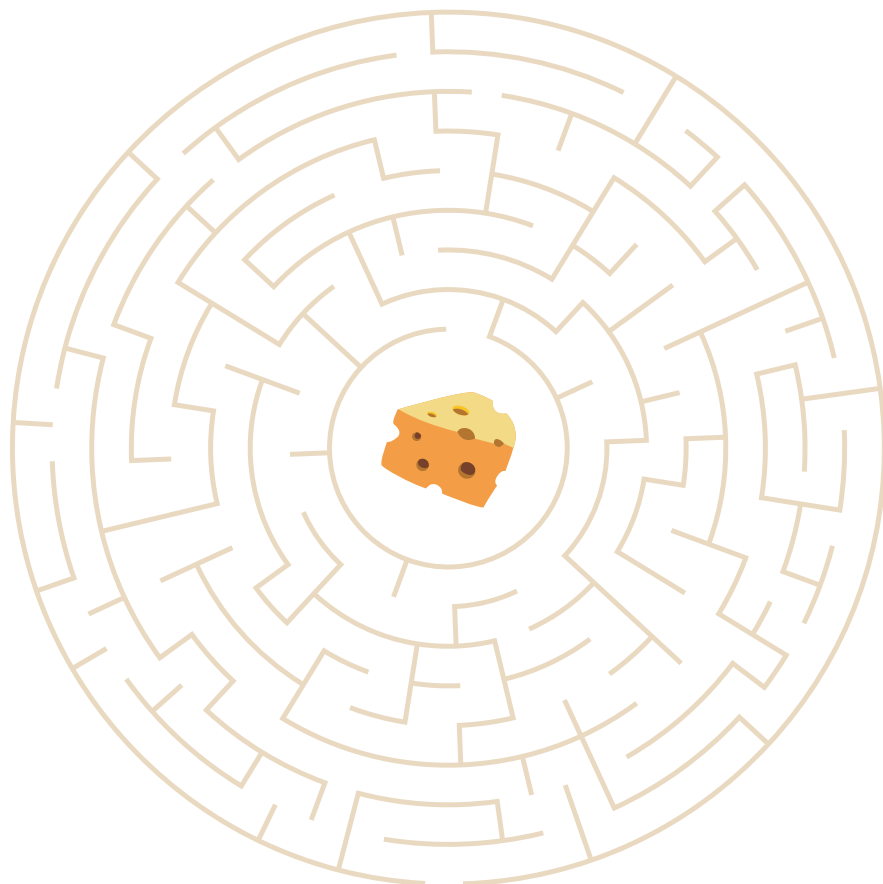

Support or short break Fostering families will look after you sometimes for days or maybe weeks. They are families that care for lots of different children at different times. Your home will be safe and your Fostering family will make you feel very welcome.

★ Short-Term Fostering Families

Short-term Fostering families look after children for a short time while their families and social workers make decisions about who can care for them safely. Sometimes this can be for weeks or sometimes longer. Your foster family will do their very best to try to make this a happy time for you.

★ Long-Term Fostering Families

Long-term Fostering families care for children for a long time. This is usually until you have grown up and are ready to move on. If you are going to live with a foster family for a long time, it is important that you feel happy and safe there. You will have time to do things like decorate your bedroom as you like to make it feel more like home for you.

Reasons for Living with a Foster Family

- ✦ Sometimes children need help because they are having a difficult time at home. They might talk to a teacher a friend a neighbour or call someone for help.
- ✦ Sometimes children's families may ask for help because they can't safely care for their children. They might be poorly or finding it hard to look after their children and keep them safe and well.
- ✦ Sometimes a friend, neighbour or teacher might contact a social worker because they are worried that a child they know is not safe, not happy or not being looked after properly and they are worried about them.
- ✦ Sometimes Social workers will have been visiting your home to see you and your family to help your parents care for you. Your social worker and your family may agree that you need to live with a foster family until decisions are made about who can care for you.
- ✦ When you live with fostering families your parents and family will still see the social worker and they will go to court to see the Judge who will decide what they think should happen and who you should live with.
- ✦ Sometimes for children this might mean that you live with a foster family until your family are able to look after you again. Or they may decide that you stay in Foster Care until you are 18 years or older.

Who Will Help & See You When You are Living with Your New Foster Family?

✦ Your Family & Friends Will Help & See You

Your family and friends who are important to you will help you when you move in to your foster family's home. They will meet your fostering family with your social worker to talk all about you. The things you like and don't like to help you feel safe and settle in.

✦ Your Foster Family Will Help You

- They will help you to settle in to the family home. You will have your own bedroom or if your brothers or sisters are with you, you might share with them.
- They will listen to what you say. They want to help you feel happy and well.
- They will help you to keep in touch with your family and friends. They will help you to do well at school and do the best you can. They will help you to enjoy the things you love to do.

✦ Your Social Worker Will Help & See You

- Your own Social Worker works with children and their families in the area that you live in. They are in charge of making sure that you are looked after, safe and happy.
- Your Social worker will visit you and your fostering family. You can talk to them when they visit or telephone / text or email them. Your fostering family will help you to do this. Your Social Workers job is to make sure they listen to you, answer your questions and plan for your future.

★ Your Ivy House Fostering Social Worker

- You and your fostering family will have your own social worker from the Ivy House Fostering team. We will visit you often and make sure everyone is happy and looked after. We will organize lots of fun things for you and your fostering family to get involved in.
- You can talk to us and we will listen. You can talk to us when we visit or telephone / text or email us. Your fostering family will help you to do this.

★ Your Independent Reviewing Officer - IRO

- When you come to live with a fostering family you will meet your reviewing officer. This is a person who is in charge of making sure your social worker, your family and your fostering family are listening to you, helping you with school, helping you see your friends and family and make sure you are healthy and happy.
- Your reviewing officer will come and see you at your fostering family's home.
- There will be lots of different meetings to talk about how things are going for you. Your parents, teachers, social worker and fostering family will come to the meeting with you if you choose to attend. If you don't want to go to the meetings you can write, draw or talk to someone who can let everyone know what you want.

When You are Worried

Titch knows that coming to live with other people and leaving your Family is scary. When he went to live with his Fostering family it helped him to talk to people about his big worries. He talked to his social worker, friends, teacher and fostering family.

Questions You Might Have

Titch has some answers to questions you might have about living with your fostering family.

✦ Will I See My Family?

You will hear people talk about having contact, this means keeping in touch with your family. There are different ways to do this. You might visit them, talk to them on the telephone or write to them and send them cards and pictures.

✦ Will I See My Friends?

Friends are very important to everyone. Your Social worker and foster family will talk to you about the people that you want to see. We hope that you will also make new friends when living with your Foster Family.

✦ Will I go to The Same School?

When children go to live with their foster families they usually stay in the same school. If you are going to live with the Foster family for a long time and the school is far away you may be able to change to a school that is nearer and easier to get to.

✦ Will I Have My Own Bedroom?

You will have your own bedroom. If you have brothers or sisters who have moved to the fostering family with you, you might share with them. You will never share your bedroom with anyone other than your brothers or sisters.

✦ Will You Get the Right Foster Family for Me?

Your Social Worker Titch the mouse and the team at Ivy House Fostering will make sure that the fostering family they choose for you is the family that can keep you safe and who you will have lots of fun with.

email: info@ivyhousefostering.co.uk

✦ Will I Have My Own Money?

You will have regular weekly pocket monies that will be given to you by your foster family. You can spend this money on things you like, or you could save some of it.

✦ Will I be Able to Bring My Own Stuff from Home?

If there are things that are special to you and you want to bring them, then your fostering family would love you to do this.

You can draw pictures of things here that are important to you and that you want to bring. You can speak to your Social worker who will arrange with your family to collect the things that are important to you.
